

Open letter to the World exposing the LIFE system Lies of Ryan Williams:

Healthcare Fraud

Medical Device Fraud

Like many I was enthralled by the QXCI/ EPFX/SCIO of Dr. Nelson and I went with Ryan Williams to sell the LIFE system when they broke up. I was told that the LIFE had the same basic technology and was a competitive product. I was there when I saw Dr. Nelson give fee room and board to Ryan and his family of six for over two years. I watched Ryan run up big debt to many and owe Nelson's company over $750,000 dollars. I have seen Ryan and his family work with Desire' Dubounet and speak highly of Desire's courage to be herself despite what convention thought. I saw Ryan speak highly of Desire' in two lectures in the Bahamas and in business for over two years. There was no problem but then greed and conflict came in and the song switched. I became aware of the federal criminal inquiry of LIFE's Google adverts and I saw more. When I really looked into what was being said I started to think.

I followed Ryan thinking business is business and the systems being similar the LIFE was an opportunity. I watched the business of the LIFE device go up and down and recently read the articles of Laima Jonusiene, www.buksveikas.com. She did a thorough investigation into Dr. Nelson's work and the LIFE. Then I started to think. Ryan has said the LIFE was the same as the SCIO in measuring remedies, and at a different time Ryan made a video showing they were different. I started to THINK.

Ryan was two faced saying things to make sales. The key to the workings of the device was the fact that it shows us how a person reacts to remedies. But then Laima asked for validation and verification of how the LIFE system did this and Ryan responded "if you want validation and verification and scientific studies then the LIFE system is NOT for you." I started to not just Think, but to look closer. No validation, No verification means it is fraud. Slick talk from Ryan don't change this

I was shocked everything about the LIFE was lies. The only studies showed on the LIFE system showed no difference from placebo. The results we got were only placebo results. I confronted Ryan on this and he laughed and said

“the alternative medicine community will believe any story I tell them”. Ryan Williams

I started to Think. Many of us who switched from the EPFX found that the LIFE device was not as good but life is life and sales is sales, we thought the LIFE would catch up with the technology. But Now I see there were no researchers, no clinical doctors working to make LIFE better. So I did my own research.

	EPFX/SCIO	LIFE
Products bought and tested	Yes, verified by CE record	None it was a Lie
Testing technology	Yes, verified by CE record	None it was a Lie
TVEP + EPR in registration	Yes, verified by CE record	None it was a Lie
Scientific Research	Yes, 30 years recorded	None it was a Lie
Approved Clinical research	Yes, 20 years 200 studies	None it was a Lie
Legal registration to test products	Yes, verified by CE record	None it was a Lie
Independent research	Yes, 20 years worth	None it was a Lie
Peer reviewed medical publication	Yes, 200 studies	None it was a Lie
Medical Textbooks University taught	Yes, verified and validated	None it was a Lie
Legal Scientific Validation	Yes, verified by CE record	None it was a Lie

When LIFE says that there device is the same it is fraud and a bold faced lie. The LIFE is just a counterfeit box made up to look like the real item the SCIO. There was No science, No verification from Life.

I was shocked everything about the LIFE was lies. The only studies showed on the LIFE system showed no difference from placebo. The results we got were only placebo results. I confronted Ryan on this and he laughed and said “the alternative medicine community will believe any story I tell them”.

I now can see that the fraud this man was committing, the con game he had built all masqueraded to look like the science and technology built by Nelson. The LIFE was a fraudulent counterfeit sham all just designed to look like a scientific registered validated device built by what I now know is a great person, Dr Nelson. Now Nelson has the courage and strength of conviction to choose his identity and the malicious slander and disgusting ranting of Ryan about Desire’ are just a manipulative ploy, a sales line, a lie all designed to con you into buying his bogus phony imitation sham device. Desire’ who gave food and a home to Ryan and his family for two years and now is smeared and deceitfully maligned to cover up Ryan’s lies. Ryan owes Desire’ over $750,000 dollars she lent them to start their business. Now Ryan is laughing at all of us and telling lies to make sales. And he slanders Desire at every turn to sell more.

The companies like Oberon, Physiospect, Sensitiv Imago, Introspect, CORE and a host of other fraudulent devices have all maliciously slandered Nelson/ Desire’. They all fear the real science and due diligence of registration, studies and the work Nelson/Desire’ have done. The FDA has a bogus charge against him to just annoy Nelson.

It has been a word game. Who’s lying? Ryan was lying thru his teeth. All of these people have made their businesses claiming that Nelson/Desire’ is lying. In fact I took the due diligence to check and I could find no lie from Nelson. It seems that everything he has said and I mean everything is true. But let me tell you almost everything Ryan has said is a lie. These other companies have been proven frauds. Ryan has been proven a fraud and a lying conman. Nelson has done the research, the science, the statistics, the registration, the publications and these are all facts. I participated in telling lies about Nelson to sell the LIFE product. I had no idea just how pervasive these lies were. I would like to apologize to Desire’ and I hope this confession helps the industry to see the real truth.

But this is not about Desire’, or Ryan, or me. It is about truth. If you use a device it is about it is about how you justify the reading of reaction. It is about scientific validation, research, clinical studies, peer reviewed publications, university curriculums, medicinal textbooks. Many people have stopped using these devices because they used the LIFE and did not see good results. The SCIO worked with AC Milan, Chinese Olympic team, Novak Djokovic, Na Li, the Hungarian Power lifting team these all point to the power of the SCIO. This was all verified.

The question is validation and verification of how do you test the remedies. If you see a client and they ask how does the system know this reaction What do you say in court. If you have a SCIO there will be a small truck of registrations saying EPR and TVEP and studies, and peer reviewed journals and much more. If you have a LIFE system well toilet paper might be the only paper you have. Life has no verification because it is fraudulent.

This article might challenge you and you might own or sell the life system. You might wonder what is really going on. Is it capable for Ryan to lie to us about what the device does?

Ask a simple question:

How does the system know the reaction and what studies and registrations verify this?

I found out that the SCIO team has a thirty years history of research, verification, confirmation, registration, publication, university medical instruction and certified medical textbooks that validate their claim. You can ask for these publications and they can be supplied. The SCIO people did not speak a word about the LIFE. They honorably just gave us information on their device. They gave us peer reviewed medical journals, certified medical textbooks, science, studies, legal registration to test reactivity, and over two decades of clinical research.

If you ask for verification from LIFE you will get stories and excuses and slander. They will spend more time slandering Nelson or misquoting Nelson than explaining how they do it.

As an insider who was duped, I feel the need to expose the LIFE lies. I know have checked this all out and offer you this testimonial to help expose the lies and honor the truth. Some of you people will believe any lie Ryan tells you. I will not. I have checked into it and will not be lied to again.

I feel stupid to have been so duped by Ryan's lies and to think I myself was drawn into slandering Nelson/Desire' makes me feel sick. To appease my soul I thought it best I tell the world of the LIFE and Ryan lies. Ask questions of validation and get answers, ask for research, ask for scientific verification but do not listen to slurs directed to other companies. Get the answer to the question how do you measure the reaction of a patient to a remedy. And try to do some due diligence on Ryan's lies. Ask Ryan for verification of what the device is claimed to do and why it has screens like those below if it is just biofeedback.

Thoughts of self doubt

Nutritional deficiencies

Toxic stress factors:

Fungus

Bacteria

Virus

Chemical agents (pesticides, cleaners)

Heavy metals

Prescription drugs

Synthetic compounds (artificial sweeteners, food color)

Vaccines

Parasites

Allergens

Geopathic stressors

Bio field contamination, Micro Waves, EFTs

These claims of LIFE have no scientific explanation, no verification, no studies, no research, and no legal basis for claim. These screens are just made up on completely random numbers and they are proven to be a medical fraud. No studies have ever been done to verify the results.

I am sorry to admit that I worked with such a fraudulent company as LIFE to sell illegal counterfeit bogus copies of a real scientific verified and validated technology. I hope this letter can atone for some of my lost self-respect. Next time I'll know to ask for verification before I get roped into a counterfeit fraud. I hope that you will ask questions and not listen to slander of others as well.

SINCERELY

SS
