There have been too many charlatans and unprofessional people selling unverified, unregistered health care products with untested, undocumented, unproven claims. People have been ripped off and lied to. Many have left this industry because there has been no consumer reports to help them evaluate claims. The Energetic + Natural Medicine industry must do something to expose these frauds or face the end.

Stories are NOT validation. Testimonials are NOT verification.

If you wish to check if a claim made by a company is valid, legal, verified then WHPRS can help you

Homeopathy has been challenged by the authorities. Many energetic medicine devices have been proven false and fraudulent. But a few have been found valid and completely verified.

The authorities want to make this entire art of energetic and natural medicine illegal. And these charlatans and well-intentioned unprofessionals are giving them the ammunition to destroy this art. It seems that the people in the energetic and natural medicine industry do not have the mental strength to see unprofessional untested ideas. They seem to believe whatever they are told. They seem to make a new accelerated form of gullibility. They need much help confirming the claims of these companies.

A group of scientists, lawyers, doctors and highly trained professionals from within the Energetic + Natural Medicine industry, got together in Germany a few years ago and dedicated themselves without pay to help save this industry of energetic and natural medicine. They founded the World Health Products Rating Service, an agency that would check and rate the claims of any company for validation. WHPRS ratings of health products validation have been correct, professional and unchallenged.

When a company says its device can measure your organs or chakras, please ask HOW. And remember you might be asked to explain HOW you measured the organ in court before a judge.

An eleven step system was developed to fully appraise a company's claims. Now you can see a professional review of a company's claims and a rating of their validity. And maybe now we can save this industry. Maybe we can save your practice. Go to this site to see a rating of a company claim.
